

MUGS MATTERS

HELLO folks!

Spring is in the air and has just popped through Meg's seat and pierced her wee bottom!

The poor old girl is not a happy Minor today because she got a real surprise when the spring jumped through.

There we were driving along and admiring all the daffodils which are dotted around the grass verges and disaster struck.

It meant that Meg had to drive wheely slowly and avoid all the bumps along the way, so we were late for a picnic with Ruaridh and Flossie.

But when we did finally settle down, we enjoyed a lovely spread and it was so nice to see the lambs springing about and the flowers blooming.

Hope you are all having fun and don't forget to keep on writing to us via

MUG

COMPETITION CORNER

They call it yellow peril! Meg has gone all daff-o-dil on me and there are yellow buds all over the garage.

Yes folks it tis that time of the year again or is it? Spring seems to have popped up early this year in our neck of the woods and there are flowers everywhere.

It has taken Meg and I quite a surprise as we were having a lovely time enjoying our winter hibernation, tucked up all warm and cosy in our plush garage.

We had just taken a peek outside to see what the weather was like and hey presto, the daffodils were going crazy and it was hard to see anything but green and yellow.

Our pal Peter Rigg the Artist was visiting, so we asked him to draw a quick sketch so we could use it for today's competition and all you have to do is find the 12 daffodils in the cartoon.

And if you are feeling particularly happy and colourful, then why not dig out your pens and give the cartoon a splash of colour and some glitter

Its just for fun, but if you are fast enough and email it in via Rebecca.hay@mmoc.org.uk, then Meg may turn you into crocus!

COMPETITION CORNER

Run rabbit, run rabbit, run, run, run. What's up Doc? My old pals Boris and Betty the Bunnies are in town and boy are they in for a bit of fun.

The pair of rascals are getting all geared up for Easter and lots and lots of chocolate of course. And this year they will be even better than usual because they have been on a chocolate making course, so they know how to create some little wonders.

Much to Meg's horror, Boris and Betty have been practising in our kitchen, so it looks a bit like a bomb site now, there are pots and pans and whisks and spoons all over the place.

And as for Boris, you can't see his whiskers for all the chocolate all over them. Now then my little Minorites, I am wondering what creations you are all making for Easter.

Meg and I would love it if you sent in some photographs of your chocolate delights, the wackier the better.

And if you do, we might just send you a crème egg back!

So why not get cracking and get cooking. Then email your photos in via Rebecca.hay@mmoc.org.uk
