

MUGS MATTERS

HELLO folks!

Our favourite time of the year is fast approaching and the sun is starting to come out which puts Meg and I in the mood for some fun.

Yes holiday season is here and that means we can dust off our radiators, drop our wings and really enjoy ourselves. We have just been in to see our lovely friend John in the garage and now we are all oiled, cleaned and raring to go.

A tour of the UK is ahead of us and we have set ourselves the challenge of seeing how many ice creams and more importantly, how many flavours we can chomp on the way round.

We hope to see as many of our Minor pals as possible, so if you spot us on tour, please give us a friendly wave. And we would be lovely to hear from you too, so please drops us a line Rebecca.hay@mmoc.org.uk and who knows you may win a wee prize.

COMPETITION CORNER

It is ama-zing what fun you can have in a rockpool. Meg and I were back to our childhood today when we headed down to the beach for some fun and games.

With the sun out and the beach deserted, we decided it was time to explore with our old pal Peter Rigg the Artist.

And what a fabulous time we had. I had forgotten just how ama-zing rockpools are and what fascinating creatures lies inside them.

Armed with my trusty net and magnifying glass, I spent hours watching the little lovelies inside the pools enjoying themselves.

Meg and I got so carried away that Peter had to dangle a fish shaped ice cream in front of our bonnets to entice us away and back to today's competition.

And we, as always need your help. Peter has drawn this clever cartoon of Meg and I looking for crabs in a rockpool and we need your help to find our way through the maze.

Can you help please? It is all for fun, but as always, we love to hear from you all so please send in your ama-zing cartoons, via Rebecca.hay@mmoc.org.uk

COMPETITION CORNER

Meg and I have scoffed so much ice cream this week that we are seeing double and even triple ninety niners!

We have had such exotic delights as Turkish delight, lemon curd and even black pudding (very strange!) and Meg had a problem squeezing into the garage last night.

So we have decided to have a rest, but still talk about ice cream. I decided it was time we tested our brains out as well as our bellies.

Can You Find The Answer ?

$$\begin{array}{ccccccc}
 \text{Blue} & + & \text{Pink} & + & \text{Pink} & = & 24 \\
 \text{Ice Cream} & & \text{Ice Cream} & & \text{Ice Cream} & & \\
 \text{Cone} & & \text{Cone} & & \text{Cone} & & \\
 \text{Pink} & - & \text{Blue} & = & 6 \\
 \text{Ice Cream} & & \text{Ice Cream} & & \\
 \text{Cone} & & \text{Cone} & & \\
 \text{Blue} & = & ? \\
 \text{Ice Cream} & & \\
 \text{Cone} & &
 \end{array}$$

I set Meg the puzzle above, it's a maths one and as you can see it contains ice cream. When I had finally stopped Meg from trying to eat the paper, she settled down to solve it.

Can you? Have a go and if you get stuck, our very nice friend Mark the designer has kindly put the answer upside down somewhere near to you...

ANSWER: 4
 SOLUTION: 4
 Blue + Red + Red = 24
 Red - Blue = 6
 if we put "RED" = 10 then 1st equation becomes,
 Blue + 10 + 10 = 24
 Blue + 20 = 24

MUG MIRTH

As you can see, we are having an ice cream themed jokes section today. So settle down with your favourite flavour, sprinkle those hundreds and thousands and get laughing. And if you can do better, then why not send in some of your own in, via Rebecca.hay@mmoc.org.uk
